Trip Highlights

- Savour delicious local cuisine along the way
- Pass local villages which showcase the heart of Maharashtra
- Cross lush mango orchards and rice fields - bite into a fresh Alphonso or two
- An experienced cyclist to lead the way

Day 1 Arrive Mumbai (Gateway of India)

We assemble at the renowned Gateway of India in the early hours of the morning. From there, we leave to catch the ferry to Mandawa Jetty in our pick-up vehicle loaded with our bags. We sail on the fresh and misty Arabian Sea for 1.5 hours and reach Mandawa Jetty. Here, we get ready to peddle up! We cycle along a 28 km stretch before reaching Alibag, the capital town of Raigad district. Here, we fill our stomachs with piping hot lunch and cycle onwards to Kashid. Today will be a comparatively easier ride along a scenic route filled with fresh green hillocks, paddy fields and the charming countryside.

Meals: Breakfast, lunch and dinner

Day 2 Kashid - Harihareshwar

Get some wind in your helmets! Today, we are riding along the Konkan coastline, with a fresh breeze blowing on our way to Harihareshwar. We eat our breakfast and cycle up to Murud (via Nandgaon). Be prepared for a bit of humidity along the coast, though the breeze should help in cooling us off. After Murud, we cycle up to Agardanda, past Rajapuri and then cross the creek by ferry to Dighi. From Dighi, we cycle down to the temple town of Harihareshwar and spend the night there.

Day 3 Harihareshwar - Dapoli

Harihareshwar is a beautiful little town in the Raigad district, and is surrounded by three distinct hills. It is called temple town due to its many sacred installations, said to have been blessed by Gods. We leave the blessed town to move towards Vesavi, which we reach by ferry along a creek, starting from Bagmandala. Once we reach Vesavi, the cycling resumes and we peddle our way to Harnai, a fishing port town. Hundreds of rather colourful boats come by Harnai's port in the evening with their catch of the day. We cycle up to Dapoli from Harnai.

Meals: Breakfast, lunch and dinner

Day 4 Dapoli - Velneshwar

Dapoli, or 'Camp Dapoli' will be a short stay as we immediately move on to Veldur, by boarding a ferry from Dapoli's port. From Veldur, we quickly peddle to Guhagar, where we enjoy a sit-down lunch. After lunch we cycle to Velneshwar, our destination of the day, which lies near Hedavi. Velneshwar is a scenic beach town, famous for its rock-free, swimming friendly beach.

Day 5 Velneshwar - Pawas

Another day of waking up bright and early! We cycle up to Tavsai and feast. After breakfast, we take yet another ferry fo Jaigad, which lies on the other side of the creek. We start cycling to our next stop, the temple town of Ganpatipule. We spend some time in the temple complex, have lunch, then cycle along the lovely coast to Ratnagiri. This is where we see the fertile grounds full of Mango orchards, rice fields and coconuts stands which make the area look verdant and are soothing to the eyes. We keep cycling and move towards Batye beach, which is followed by a climb to the plateau leading to the cozy, peaceful village of Pawas.

Meals: Breakfast, lunch and dinner

Day 6 Pawas - Kunkeshwar

This is going to be a long day of cycling, though the terrain is flat and not populous. After breakfast, we head to Ambolgad, and the route is full of fishing villages, coconut palm trees and glimpses of the coast. We have lunch on the way and reach Kunkeshwar, another temple town - located on the banks of the Arabian sea. We eat dinner by the end of the night.

The road ahead is also a long one! Worry not, we have your back. We start early with a breakfast to fulfill your hunger. We head to Malvan and if time permits, we can pay a visit to the historical Sindhudurg Fort which occupies an islet in the Arabian Sea. Malvan has clear waters and a colourful marine life, especially around the Fort - which makes for a great snorkeling spot for water lovers. From Malvan, we head to Devbag for lunch then board the ferry to head to Bhogave Beach. From there, it would be a short and pleasant distance to Parule, and finally Vengurla.

Meals: Breakfast, lunch and dinner

Day 8 Vengurla - Arambol Beach - Calangute

Today is our last day of cycling so give it your best. We enter lovely Goa at Arambol beach around lunchtime and snarf down some food!
